

January 2005, Futures Magazine
Article by Yesenia Salcedo

TradingScreen Inc. has launched TradeSmart version 2.0, a customizable trading front-end, which combines a redesigned user interface with enhanced functionality for electronic trading across multiple asset classes. The product enables buy-side clients such as hedge funds, traditional asset managers, private bankers and proprietary trading desks to trade a broad portfolio of financial instruments with a wide range of counterparties. TradeSmart gives users the ability to aggregate multiple dealers and products onto a single screen format for the electronic order routing of both direct market access discretionary orders and Notice of Executions to a large number of broker destinations. See www.tradingscreen.com or e-mail philippe.buhamic@tradingscreen.com.